TODAY AT ZION

Churches are not places of model behavior. They have as many people struggling with sin, pain, and brokenness as those outside of church. Rather than being perfectly healthy communities, church is the place we can go to acknowledge, face, and deal with our brokenness. The book of James confronts the conflicts, tensions, and mess of church life head on. This week, as we continue our study of James, we hear a hard word for the abusive rich. Judgment is coming. God is going to set things right.

LAST WEEK Threads Boutique and two other ministries were presented to a group called 100+ Women Who Care. This is a group of local women who are interested in supporting the community by contributing to local charities as a group to increase the impact of their donation. During the presentation, the mission of the organization had to be described, along with how it serves the community, who it impacts, and how many it impacts. After the presentations of the three ministries, each woman in this group voted on which ministry they would like their donation to go towards, and the organization with the most votes received all the donations from each of these women. AND, THREADS WON!!! $5,000!!!! So many people will be blessed with this donation! The plan is to use this money to purchase and provide NEW winter coats, boots, and snow pants to the children of the families that shop at Threads. What an incredible opportunity it was to present Threads and spread the word about this ministry to the community. To be able to receive SO much money for this ministry on top of that is truly amazing! Thank you Jesus!
